

GS-III Inclusive Growth and Issues Arising from it.

- 1. The Growth Models followed by India Since Independence haven't really Delivered what they were expected to? In this context, critically Analyze the Gandhian way for an Inclusive Economy.

Why this Question?

- Need for a bottom up growth model rather than top down approach.

Key Demands of Question:

- Explain the Gandhian approach demands a bottom-up growth model not top down approach.
- Discuss the earlier India's growth model and its limitations.
- Explain how the bottom up approach will help to develop the country in the social, economic and environmental sphere.

Directive Word:

Critically Analyze:

- When asked to Analyze, you have to examine methodically the structure or nature of the topic by separating it into component parts and present them as a whole in a summary. When 'critically' is suffixed or prefixed to a directive, one needs to look at the good and bad of the topic and give a fair judgement.
- Whenever it is asking Critically Examine, Critically Comment or Critically Analyse just remember that you have to write both pros and cons and give a fair, unbiased or value Loaded Judgement. It should always give a closure feeling while examiner reading the Answer.

Structure of Answer:

Introduction:

- Give brief introduction about the India's complex social, economic and environmental structure.

Body:

- Discuss the need for the bottom up approach of the growth model.
- Explain the earlier developmental top down approach and its limitations on the inclusive Development of the Country.
- Explain how the bottom up approach will help to achieve the sustainable development.
- Highlight the Examples of Kerala's growth model and Delhi's growth model success in improving the livelihood of the People.

Conclusion:

- Conclude with significance and the need for the bottom up approach to attain the Sustainable Development in the Dynamic Environmental Circumstances.

